NOTE: Make checks or money orders for Entry Fee out to Burning Paradise Video.

All entries and material sent will not be returned. Submission by you of a film constitutes your understanding and agreement to these official rules.

The Selection Process:

Selections for the TromaDance New Mexico Film Festival are judged by an official selection committee brought together specifically for this purpose. Films are judged based on artistic merit and originality. Sex and violence is not required - but highly encouraged!

TromaDance receives hundreds of entries every year, and the selection committee views each and every one of them. (Note: Lloyd Kaufman has no involvement in the selection process.) Various levels of selection are used to determine the final films to be screened. Unfortunately, due to the number of entries received, we cannot communicate with filmmakers as to the status of their film. If your film is selected for "Burning Paradise Presents: TromaDance New Mexico", we will contact you using the information provided on the official entry form.
